Save County A Neat Sum

Equalization Board Finds $144,000 of Untaxed Personality

The County Board of Equalization, composed of Ole Crane, Jesse McArthur, Jno. Howard, F. C. Wisdom and E. C. Coffman, has completed its labors after some excellent and profitable work for the taxpayers of the county. Besides equalizing a vast amount of property assessment, and striking out duplicate and erroneous entries, the Board's most notable action was, perhaps, the "picking up" of $144,000 of personality which had escaped the assessors' inquisition. This will add a very goodly sum to the taxes of the county and provide a more just and adequate assessment. It demonstrates the wisdom of selecting for public service our most capable men.

To Whom It May Concern

We learn that it is rumored that we are taking sides in the case of Rich and Calvert. No men in the country can regret this deplorable affair more than we do. Our sympathies go out to both families in their deep sorrow. But beyond this we have not gone and will not go. We have done nothing or spoken one word for either side and will not do so. We have been, and are now and will continue to be absolutely neutral in the case. Any report or rumor to the contrary is absolutely false.

This June 23, 1913.

Obituary

The death angel visited the home of Lewis Johnson, of Wayland Springs, on June 9, 1913, and claimed for its victim his wife, Ada Johnson. She was ill only a few days but bore her suffering with patience. She leaves husband, one sweet little girl, a mother, sisters and brother and many friends to mourn her death. All was done by helping hands that could be done. We feel that our loss is Heaven's gain and may the loved ones look to Him Who doeth all things well and be ready when the summons shall come for them to meet her in Heaven. The loved ones have the heartfelt sympathy of this community. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. J. Tucker and the remains laid to rest at Wayland Springs cemetery.—A Friend.

H. S. Herald's Final Number

Manager Sims Gets Out Last Issue of School Journal for the Year

Manager Almon Sims has just got out the last issue of the 1912-13 volume of the High School Herald. When it is considered that Mr. Sims and his associates have, with but little training in that line, done all the work on this issue, it is a truly remarkable achievement. The editorial work, printing, binding and all has been done by the pupils themselves, and the work is very creditable. A number of very fine cuts appear in the final issue, which with the very excellent articles appearing therein make quite an attractive booklet. Our right-thinking people are proud of the High School, and its paper should not be overlooked as an important factor in promoting that admirable school spirit, so noticeable here.

Farming Lands at $200 Acre

Wisdom-Dunn Deal Sets a High Water Mark for Farm Land Values.

The purchase of some farm lands at the price of a round $200 per acre, is worthy of note, in that it sets a high mark never before reached in this section on lands suited only for farming purposes. F. C. Wisdom bought a tract from Jas. T. Dunn, near the old Sykes Factory for this price, last week. This tract has no house or improvements whatever, and the price is based purely on the remarkably fertile soil, it being subject to winter overflows that make it richer and richer every year. This deal only confirms our faith in the very great agricultural future for this goodly county.

NOTICE—The Fair Catalogue is now being published and at an early date the premium list will be run in the Democrat

The first count in our piano contest has been made, and while only one could be winner, five ladies have proven themselves adroit and capable contestants, so as to make it evident that it will take the final count to enable one to even guess who will get the piano. Miss Willie Hale leads in the first count and gets the $10 prize, as the result of her splendid work since the contest opened. She got an early start, and has worked faithfully and well deserves her success.

She realizes from the way her competitors went after and got the votes, that she will have to fight every inch of the way, however. Several of the contestants had only been actively at work for a short time, and the votes they piled up was remarkable.

The following is the standing of the candidates:

1st, Miss Willie Hale	26,275
2nd, Miss May Richardson	18,300
3rd, Mrs. C. C. Stockard	14,475
4th, Mrs. Algie Chaffin	11,425
5th, Mrs. Bob Taylor McLean	7,250
6th Mrs. W. A. Springer	7,050

Other votes scattering:

Miss Mildred Simms	1,025
LAURENCEBURG R. F. D.
G. W. Lindley	1,125
Mrs. Geo. R. Moody R. R. 2	1,275
Miss Annie Reavis R. R. 2	1,375
LAURENCEBURG
Mrs. Maud Rainey	1,200
Miss Marie Gilbreath	1,025
CROWSON
Miss Myrtle Kidd	1,600
CROWSONVIEW
T. H. Reynolds	1,050
BRACE
Miss Vesta Daves	1,225
WEST POINT
Miss Minnie Newton	1,200
Annie Copeland	1,100
IRON CITY
Miss Mamie Luckey	1,025

Miss Alice Horne, of West Point, and Mrs. Cordia Lowe, of Crowson, are new contestants in the great Piano Voting Contest.

The next count will be on July 17, at which time we will give away $15 in prizes. Only votes cast between now and July 17 will be counted for these prizes, so that one contestant has as good a chance as another, or a new contestant altogether may win. All votes are counted, however, on final count for the piano and eleven merchants prizes.

Miss Wilson's Lecture

Miss Louvenia Wilson of Kentucky, Organizer of Auxiliaries sent out by the Woman's Board of Missions held a service at the C. P. Church last Thursday evening. Those present were fortunate for in Miss Wilson's talk, there was a spiritual feast for all. She was plain, forceful and deeply consecrated in the great and noble calling of the work of Missions.

On Friday afternoon Miss Wilson met the ladies of the Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. C. T. Crawford where she gave to them valuable instructions. It was a great inspiration to all to be associated with a woman so gentle, so earnest, and so Christlike.

Notice

Owing to the continued dry weather, people in town are beginning to water their gardens and most of them are doing more harm than good. The way to water a garden is to go out late in the evening and wet the soil down several inches deep. The next morning, as soon as it is dry enough, work the top of the ground and hold the moisture. It should not need any watering then for a week. If you can't water your entire garden this way water a part, say one-third, for several evenings. In this way you will use less water and get better results.
